Customer Service Practitioner

The role of a customer service practitioner is to deliver high quality products and services to the customers of their organisation. Your core responsibility will be to provide a high quality service to customers which will be delivered from the workplace, digitally, or through going out into the customer's own locality. These may be one-off or routine contacts and include dealing with orders, payments, offering advice, guidance and support, meet-and-greet, sales, fixing problems, after care, service recovery or gaining insight through measuring customer satisfaction. You may be the first point of contact and work in any sector or organisation type.

Your actions will influence the customer experience and their satisfaction with your organisation. You will demonstrate excellent customer service skills and behaviours as well as product and/or service knowledge when delivering to your customers. You provide service in line with the organisation's customer service standards and strategy and within appropriate regulatory requirements. Your customer interactions may cover a wide range of situations and can include; face-to-face, telephone, post, email, text and social media.

Key Areas of Study

Your apprentice will cover essential knowledge, skills and behaviours on their programme. The full menu of options for what can be covered is outlined below and you can select the areas of most importance for your organisation.

Developing self

- Take ownership for keeping your service knowledge and skills up-to-date.
- Consider personal goals and propose development that would help achieve them.

Being open to feedback

- Act on and seek feedback from others to develop or maintain personal service skills and knowledge.

Team working

- Frequently and consistently communicate and work with others in the interest of helping customers efficiently.
- Share personal learning and case studies with others, presenting recommendations, and improvement to support good practice.

- Equality – treating all customers as individuals
- Treat customers as individuals to provide a personalised customer service experience.
- Uphold the organisations core values and service culture through your actions.

Presentation – dress code, professional language

- Demonstrate personal pride in the job through appropriate dress and positive and confident language.

"Right first time"

- Use communication behaviours that establish clearly what each customer requires and manage their expectations.
- Take ownership from the first contact and then take responsibility for fulfilling your promise.

Training, Tutoring and Assessment

The whole programme takes a minimum of 12 months to complete, at which point your apprentice can start their end point assessment. The pace at which the apprentice progresses will be driven by you and the apprentice. We will work closely with you to plan and deliver appropriate support and training. Your apprentice will mainly learn on the job, but training and one-to-one tutoring are a key part of the new apprenticeship standards, not just assessment, with more time on tutoring as part of the 20% off-the-job training.

You will carry out joint reviews with us at regular intervals, where progress will be discussed. You can use your normal performance management processes to monitor the progress of the apprentice, provide feedback and guide development. Your apprentice will be expected to keep a portfolio to track their learning and development throughout the apprenticeship.

End Point Assessment

In conjunction with us, you will be asked to formally sign-off that the apprentice has met the minimum requirements for knowledge, skills and behaviours within the apprenticeship standard and confirm they are ready to move on to the end assessment, which will be measured as follows:

- Apprentice Showcase (worth 65%) – with guidance from their tutor, the apprentice will select appropriate evidence from their on-programme portfolio to demonstrate minimum requirements of the standard. This will evidence professional competence at the relevant level. The showcase will be reviewed and assessed by an independent assessor against the key areas of study outlined above.
- Practical Observation (worth 20%) – this one-hour observation will be pre-planned and scheduled to take place in the apprentice's normal place of work. The observation should enable the apprentice to demonstrate their skills, knowledge and behaviour.
- Professional Discussion (worth 15%) – a structured discussion between the apprentice and an independent assessor following the practical observation, to establish the apprentice's understanding and application of knowledge, skills and behaviours. The discussion will be based on set

For more information on the assessment for Customer Service Practitioner Apprenticeship please see the full assessment plan in the Apprenticeship Standard documentation. We will arrange the end point assessment.
